THE "INSIDE" OF THE RECENT RECALL ELECTION

Portland, offering the cheapest transportation facilities possible.

Is the Automobile Club of Portland being used as a cat's paw while it shouts good roads for the benefit of its members?

Roads Commercial Avenues.

When will the Legislature, the Automobile Club and other good roads enthusiasts in Oregon learn that the roads of Oregon must first be used for commercial purposes if we are ever to develop our state. What good can come to Oregon by having beautiful scenic highways which parallel the transportation lines if the products of the farm must be hauled through the mud three feet deep to reach them.

Bonds for Road Purposes.

There is one great big principal of County Bond Issues for road purposes which the farmers of the State, the Tax Liberator and every thinking person objects to. It is this: under a bond issue, every one in the county has to pay his proportion of the expense. The money arising from bond issues, however, is generally spent on a few roads and some people, therefore have their property greatly enhanced in value at the expense of others. This, however, would not be so bad if the roads were so situated as to make a general improvement throughout the county. But when the money is used for building scenic boulevards for automobile owners, and these boulevards parallel the railroads so that there is no direct commercial advantage gained by the construction of these roads, then the injustice of the system is apparent.

Reduce Cost of Haulage.

The purpose of road improvement in Oregon should be the actual reduction in cost of the haul per ton mile in getting the product of the soil to the transportation lines, so that they can be shipped to the markets of the world. The Grange and farmers will always oppose the building of boulevards for joy-riding automobilists and which parallel the railroads of Oregon.

Burden is Staggering.

The tax burden in Oregon has become so enormous as to build a stone wall against prospective settlers. The towns and cities of Oregon are suffering through undevelopment of farming lands in the state. The farming lands of Oregon can never be developed until there are proper roads leading from the farming districts to the railroads or water lines. What we need in Oregon is lateral roads.

Scenic Highways.

In Columbia County more than a quarter of a million dollars has been raised for the purpose of building a scenic highway. This will not do Columbia County one dollar's worth of good, commercially, even though it had been completed for this amount. As matters now stand, the road is incomplete, begins nowhere and ends nowhere, and it looks as though this tremendous amount of money which had been paid by the taxpayers of Columbia County would be almost entirely wasted.

How many more counties are going to be milked dry of their funds and still get no roads?

Rumor has it that preliminary plans are right now under way to work up enthusiasm toward hard surface roads in other counties. Let the taxpayer beware and the County Courts heed Columbia County's experience. They planned to have a hard surface road. Instead they have spent their money and have only a mud way that is impassable and the balance of the funds required to make the road useful must come from special levies as they have already bonded to the limit of the law. What next?
